

Biggest Killer Is Diseases of the Heart

The obituaries printed in this newspaper offer persuasive testimony that the challenge of heart and blood vessel diseases — far from being an abstract and distant national issue — is in reality the number one health problem right here in this community.

These diseases are responsible for more than 54 per cent of all deaths in the nation, and chances are that about the same ratio applies here.

"Heart attack," "stroke," "hypertensive heart disease," "congestive heart failure," "high blood pressure," "rheumatic heart disease" and "congenital heart disease" are words that appear all too often on death certificates in this community.

Can anything be done about it? Yes, indeed. We have been doing something about it. Since the onset of massive heart research programs in 1950, the cardiovascular death rate among persons aged below 65 has declined about 15 percent. Virtually every advance has been speeded by your Heart Fund dollars.

But much remains to be done. You can help by supporting the 1968 Heart Fund Campaign through your contributions and your volunteer services. The campaign is conducted throughout February, reaching its high point on the weekend of Heart Sunday with a residential solicitation.

Give — so more will live!

Italian Is First Gold Medal Winner

AUTRANS, France (AP) — Italy's Franco Nones outpaced favored Scandinavian skiers in the men's 30-kilometer cross-country test today and captured the first gold medal in the 1968 Winter Olympic Games.

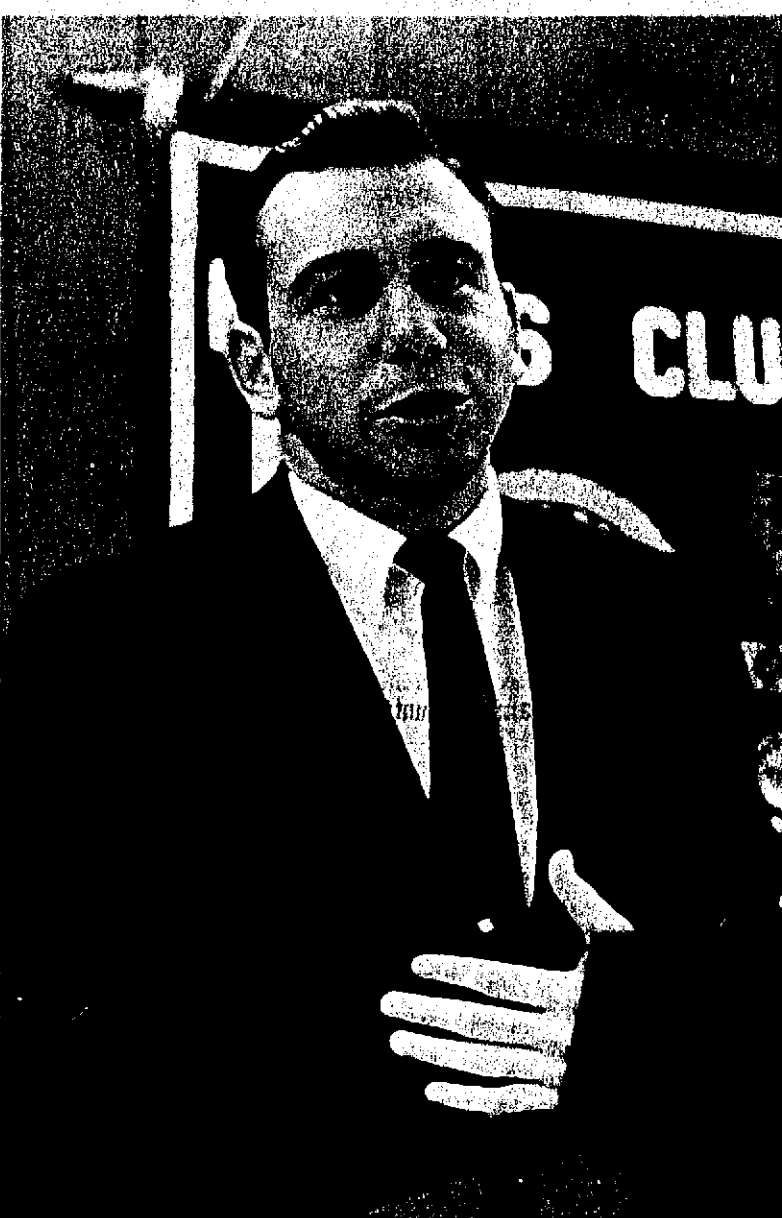

Nones, leading from start to finish, sped through the demanding, 18.6 mile overland course in one hour, 35 minutes, 38.2 seconds to beat Norwegian ace Odd Martinsen and defending champion Eero Mäntyranta of Finland. Martinsen was second in 1:36.28.9, Mäntyranta third in 1:36.55.3.

A four-man American contingent, led by Mike Gallagher of Killington, Vt., was far back in the pack.

McCarthy Has Part in a Hockey Game

By HARRY KELLY
Associated Press Writer

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — At a time when presidential aspirants like to show the voters their skill at sports, Sen. Eugene McCarthy has set a new athletic standard-taking part in a rough game of ice hockey.

In a yellow sweatshirt, black trousers, a red helmet and borrowed skates the Minnesota Democrat—challenging President Johnson's Vietnam war policies in primaries—skated out onto the ice rink here Tuesday night to join in a game of hockey.

McCarthy, 51, had been captain and high scorer of his St. John's College team back in Minnesota but it had been a long time since he had been on skates and he told friends later, "this is my last game."

Before swinging into the hockey game—a favorite sport with New Hampshire voters—McCarthy took a shot at the regular Democratic party in New Hampshire, which has not welcomed his challenge of President Johnson.

McCarthy fired a blast at a campaign to write in President Johnson's name in the March 12 presidential preference primary. The senator took exception, in a speech sponsored by a McCarthy-for-President organization, to a card circulated in New Hampshire under the label of the Democratic state committee.

The card asks the democratic voters to pledge their support to President Johnson by writing in his name on the primary ballot. Each card bears a serial number, and one of the three detachable parts is labeled "White House copy" and notes "as an expression of your support this card will be forwarded to President Johnson at the White House in Washington, D.C."

McCarthy said the plan came close to denying people the right of the secret ballot and would destroy New Hampshire's reputation as a state with an open primary.

McCarthy is on his first intensive swing through New Hampshire, which will have the first primary election in the country. Tuesday night he drew about 400 to his speech in Concord where he warned of what he sees as a growing influence of the military-industrial complex in both foreign and domestic affairs.

Knudson Is New Head of Ford Motors

By GENE SCHROEDER
Associated Press Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Semon E. Knudson, named president of Ford Motor Co. after resigning a top position with General Motors Corp., will take over many of Henry Ford II's duties with the nation's second largest manufacturing firm.

Ford announced Tuesday that Knudson, 55, had been chosen as president. He said Knudson will be the chief operating officer and take on Ford's duties as chief executive in his absence. Ford, whose grandfather founded the automotive company, remains as chairman of the board.

In Washington business circles, there were rumors that Ford might be in line for a high government post, possibly at Cabinet level. But the White House said it knew nothing of such a move, and Ford told a news conference he had no plans to take a government post "at the present time."

Only a week ago, Knudson was an executive vice president at General Motors, the No. 1 automaker and Ford's chief competitor. But Knudson resigned

Pueblo Dead, Wounded Are Listed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon today identified the dead crewman of the USS Pueblo, the intelligence ship captured by the North Koreans, as Duane D. Hodges, a fireman from Creswell, Ore.

It also gave the names of three injured crewmen: Fireman Apprentice Steven E. Woelk, described as seriously injured.

Radioman 3.C. Charles H. Crandell and Marine Sgt. Robert J. Chiooa, both described as slightly injured.

The questions raised by the Pueblo's capture off the North Korean port of Wonsan continue to echo in Congress.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., asks why the United States, with its vast radar tracking network, can't say for certain the Pueblo did not violate North Korea's territorial waters.

The South Dakota Republican posed his question as Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., speculated the administration is preparing to apologize to North Korea for violating the sea limit in hopes of getting back the ship and survivors of her 83-man crew.

Top administration officials have said the Pueblo maintained radio silence from Jan. 10-21, before the North Koreans captured her Jan. 23, so it cannot be said for sure she did not violate the Communist nation's sea limit.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen told a Tuesday news conference: "There was some monitoring done and there are some tapes. I think most everything was known."

But Dirksen, who attended White House briefings on the Pueblo affair, declined to amplify his statements further.

Mundt said he is asking the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to add a question about radar coverage to a list of queries on 20 general areas of the Pueblo incident already submitted to the State Department.

Mundt said it seems logical that if American intelligence knows the position of Soviet intelligence ships in all parts of the world—as he said it claims—it could keep track of one of its own electronic vessels without radio communications.

Sen. Milton R. Young, R-N.D., said in a separate interview the same question is likely to be explored at a select committee's briefing by the Central Intelligence Agency on the Pueblo matter.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said on a national broadcast Sunday that they cannot say beyond a shadow of a doubt the Pueblo did not enter territorial waters. Such an assertion, they said, must await release of the captain and crew.

The State Department said subsequently that Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg had been talking only about the day of the ship's seizure when he told the United Nations the ship was outside the 12-mile limit Communist countries set.

The North Koreans have made an American apology and punishment of the Pueblo's captain basic demands for the release of the captive Americans.

after he was passed over for the presidency of GM in favor of Edward N. Cole, who in turn replaced James Roche, now board chairman.

Knudson, son of a former GM president, had worked for GM for nearly 30 years. He guided the Pontiac Division into third place in the industry behind Chevrolet and Ford.

Later, as manager of the Chevrolet Division Knudson presided over sales that soared to an all-time record two million cars in one year.

After Tuesday's announcement, Ford stock went up 1/2 point while GM fell 1/4 on the New York Stock Exchange.

Automakers will be watching to see if Knudson's reign at Ford will result in gains for his new employer. The favorite Knudson formula is the injection of what he calls "massive doses of engineering."

The executive shuffle—which found former Ford president Roy Miller named to a newly created post constitutes a fourth regime in Ford's postwar management.

Ford said his company had not been looking actively for a new president. "Knudson's availability triggered the idea," he explained.

Deaths From Traffic Match Toll in 1966

CHICAGO (AP) — Traffic accidents killed 53,000 persons last year, matching the 1966 toll, but an increase in travel resulted in a lower death rate for distance covered.

In announcing this today, Howard Pyle, president of the National Safety Council, said, "these 1967 traffic statistics support our conviction that the traffic loss of lives and dollars on the highways is an unnecessary expense that the nation can control."

The cost of the 1967 accidents was estimated at $11 billion.

Deaths in December totaled 5,210, up 3 per cent from the 5,040 killed in December 1966.

The 1967 rate was 5.5 fatalities per 100 million vehicle miles, a 4 per cent decrease from the 1966 rate of 5.7 deaths. The record low of 5.2 deaths per 100 million vehicle miles was set in 1961. In 1957 the rate was 6.

Mileage traveled in 1967 rose to 970 billion from 930.5 billion in 1966, an increase of 4 per cent.

cent. The council estimated that traffic accidents caused 1.9 million disabling injuries last year in addition to the deaths.

Of the $11 billion economic loss, 3.5 billion came from damaged and destroyed property and the remainder from wage losses, medical expenses and overhead cost of insurance.

There were 103 million registered drivers at the end of 1967 and 100 million registered vehicles.

Convention Measures Hit a Snag

By GEORGE F. BARTSCH
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A vice chairman of the Arkansas Senate's Committee on Constitutional Amendments, Sen. Morrell Gathright of Pine Bluff will play a big part in shaping legislation needed to set up a constitutional convention.

The committee, headed by Sen. Thomas Penn of Cave City is considering two such measures now, and Gathright indicated Tuesday that he wasn't happy with either one.

What bothers him primarily, he said, is the timetable proposed for the convention and the manner in which delegates are to be elected.

The bills, both of which were introduced Monday, reflect the views of the Constitutional Revision Study Commission and the Arkansas Legislative Council. Sen. Ben Allen of Little Rock introduced the commission measure, and Sen. Robert Harvey of Swifton the one proposed by the council.

Safeguards Sought for Consumers

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, bidding to put the 90th Congress into the Record Book as the "Consumers' Congress," has outlined a new eight-point program for this year.

The proposals, most of which had been detailed before Tuesday's special presidential message, include improved fish and poultry inspection, safeguards against home improvement and other sales frauds, a study of auto insurance and boating safety standards.

Some proposals, such as radiation standards for color television and other electronic products, already have won strong support at congressional hearings.

Others, such as the Senate-passed gas pipeline safety bill and the measure to protect against electric power blackouts, have drawn strong industry opposition but appear to have a good chance of enactment—if they can get out of committee.

Despite frequently difficult fights in committee where closed sessions conceal many votes, only a handful of members have cast negative votes in public against the growing list of consumer-oriented bills.

The record of major consumer bills before Congress shows: 1. Interest disclosure, passed 382 to 4 last week by the House after a weaker bill had been approved 92 to 0 by the Senate in July.

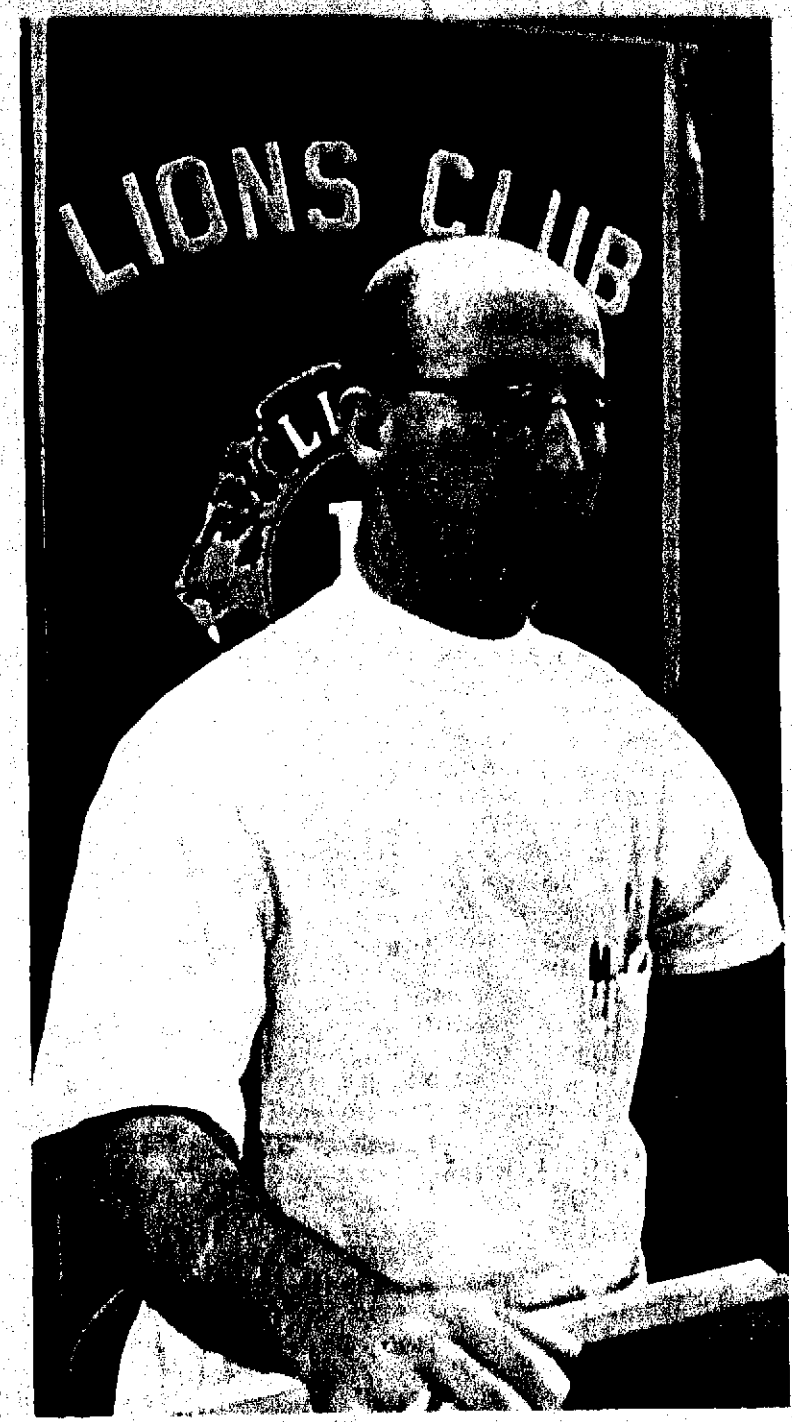

2. Meat inspection, passed last fall 403 to 1 by the House, strengthened 89 to 2 by the Senate with a bill close to the stronger version finally re-passed the House 336 to 28.

3. Air pollution, passed 88 to 0 last year by the Senate and 362 to 0 by the House.

4. Flammable fabrics, passed last year by a voice vote in the Senate and by 325 to 0 in the House.

5. Auto safety and highway safety, passed unanimously by the Senate in 1966 and with just three dissenting votes—on the highway safety measure—in the House.

6. Fair packaging, passed 71 to 9 in the Senate in 1966 and 300 to 8 in the House after a committee had watered it down. In none of these cases do the final votes indicate the strength of industry opposition and the difficult fight which faced proponents in pushing the measures through.

The interest disclosure bill, described by some supporters as the strongest consumer bill ever to pass the House, is a good example of the way members reacted in committee and on the floor.

In the House Banking Committee, Democrats failed by a handful of votes to require that interest be expressed in annual percentages for revolving charge accounts and to include credit charges of under $10.

But when they tried on the floor, the provision covering revolving charge accounts won by a vote of 135 to 19, while the $10 limit was deleted by a voice vote.

In both cases, a key to the overwhelming votes was that the parliamentary situation would have required a roll call had the issue gone the other way. Even members opposing the two provisions were not eager to put their opposition on the record.

SHE HAS TWO BABIES—ONE GROWN

Dear Helen:
Our baby has colic, which gets worse at bedtime. She cries, and I can't leave a baby in pain. So my husband storms to bed like a bull, giving me disgusted looks, as if I have some secret way of making our daughter get a stomachache! I'm a normal woman, and I love my husband, but I resent his "Come to bed" attitude. I think love should be mutually shared, not something to get mad over. With an impatient husband in the bedroom and a screaming, colicky baby in arms, what should I do? — EXASPERATED

Dear Ex:
Why not turn the tables on your BIG baby? Let HIM walk the floor with his small daughter, while you wait in bed. — H.

Dear Helen:
My hubby is going on 70, lately he tells fibs it would make your hair curl to hear.

My daughter always sends me a hundred-dollar check for my birthday. Today I found the card, but no check. I asked John and he said I was away when it came so he took it and had a good time at a bar. I can't believe that. Please tell me how I can get the check back if it is not spent by now? — MRS. Y.

Dear Mrs. Y:
Either your husband has developed a zany sense of humor, or he had himself a whale of a good time. Let's hope it's the former, and the check has not yet been mailed...or is hidden in the sugar bowl. — H.

Dear Helen:
Har's another way to occupy those spare "retirement" hours. I have been helping teach unfortunate people how to read.

a citadel of yesterday, a museum of the Confederacy and that family's service to it—a museum hung with souvenirs of a vanished glory.

To us it was as if the Civil War were there, not for us to read about, but to play with. We put our short legs into the long gray pants, hitched them up with one hand, waved the swords that were there. We put our fingers into reluctant, time-stiffened gloves that had held previous fingers in ordeal. We wore indoors in that dusty barn a military hat that had sheltered another head from rainfall in the century before us—or so I think now, being older and more respectful.

We didn't think about who had worn these clothings before us or why they had been kept. They were only there, intruders as we were, to enjoy by play. It is only when you are older that you conjecture about such things as fatefall, cherish and parish.

At the time we played with them, these remnants of before, they were something found by chance. And in the glory of our discovery and the joy of our wearing we did not pause to think of those who had worn these uniforms before.

They were only there, something to play with, and whoever owned the barn had kept them there, and we were only children who had snuck our way into the barn and made games with what we found.

It is very nice to have a barn in your life. It keeps a pleasant musty smell of now and then and always.

Tar Heels May Have Set Record

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
North Carolina's Tar Heels, enjoying one of their best seasons, set what is believed to be a national collegiate basketball record with a total of 34 assists in beating Virginia.

The Tar Heels, third ranked nationally to Houston and UCLA in The Associated Press poll, accomplished the feat Tuesday night as they routed the Cavaliers 108-64 for their 13th straight victory.

"We must have set a record with our assists," said Dean Smith, North Carolina coach, after a capacity crowd of 8,800 at Chapel Hill saw the Tar Heels sport Virginia a 12-6 lead, then rally to win easily.

"We got beat by a good team," commented Bill Gibson, the Virginia coach, after the Tar Heels had upped their over-all record to 15-1 led by Rusty Clark's 19 points and 16 rebounds. Norman Carmichael led Virginia with 18 points and 10 rebounds.

Army, which hasn't made The AP Top Ten so far, and Duke, which dropped out of the select group this week, featured the other games.

The West Point Cadets strengthened their chances for a bid to either the NCAA or NIT postseason tournaments by whipping Rutgers 50-41 for their 10th in a row and 16-3 over-all. Bill Schutsky's 23 points paced the Cadets to their home court triumph.

Duke made it 11 straight at home by whipping Maryland 85-64 at Durham behind Mike Lewis' 32 points and 18 rebounds. The Blue Devils now are 12-3 for the season.

Illinois kept on the heels of Ohio State in the Big Ten by beating Wisconsin on the road 68-60. Villanova, also won on the road by downing Detroit 63-55 behind 30 points from Johnny Jones.

Notre Dame took DePaul 91-85 in overtime, Boston College thumped Massachusetts 94-70, Davidson defeated Furman 55-40 and Seattle vanquished Portland 81-66 in home court triumphs. Brown upset Rhode Island 69-58 at Providence.

In the Southwest Conference, Arkansas beat Texas Tech 61-55, Baylor downed Texas 74-58 and Texas Christian humbled Southern Methodist 91-64, all home court victories. Texas A&M won on the road over Rice 75-66.

Muskies Hook a Share of First Place

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Minnesota Muskies have hooked onto a share of first place in the Eastern Division of the American Basketball League with seconds to spare.

Skip Thoren pulled up the Muskies when he tossed them the hook, a shot with four seconds remaining that lifted Minnesota to a 112-110 victory over New Orleans Tuesday night.

Pittsburgh lost its sole grip on the top spot when Indiana surprisingly pulled down the Pipers 113-100.

Minnesota and Pittsburgh now are virtually tied, although the Pipers still hang onto a lead of percentage points.

In the only other game, Oakland upended Dallas 99-98.

In the NBA, New York swamped St. Louis 121-100, Detroit mauled San Diego 120-93, San Francisco edged Chicago 126-124 in overtime and Los Angeles trounced Cincinnati 146-102.

Thoren's eight-foot shot, giving Minnesota its 14th straight home court victory, came after Doug Moe had tied the game for the Buccaneers with a three-point goal with 37 seconds left.

Moe, who finished with 38 points, had led the Bucs to a 51-36 lead and a 59-48 spread at halftime before Minnesota shook loose for an 87-84 three-quarter margin.

Les Hunter had 24 points for the Muskies, Thoren ended with 12.

Indiana, entering its game 10 lengths behind Pittsburgh and playing on the road, stunned the Pipers with an easy victory. Fred Lewis, who scored 26

Porkers in Win Over Texas Tech

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The surprising Arkansas Razorbacks, winning their sixth straight home game of the season, took over sole possession of second place in the Southwest Conference Tuesday night with a 61-56 victory over Texas Tech.

The Razorbacks went into Tuesday's game tied with Texas for second place, but the Longhorns dropped a 74-58 decision to the league-leading Baylor Bears.

Arkansas now is 5-2 in league action, one game behind the Bears. The victory over Tech brought the Razorbacks' overall record to 8-9.

Leading by one point at halftime, 27-26, Arkansas outscored Tech 34-30 in the second half. The Razorbacks led by as much as 10 points at times.

Tech led only once in the game, 12-10, and the Red Raiders managed to tie the game with 18:31 left. Each time, though, the Razorbacks regained the lead quickly.

Robert McKenzie led Arkansas with 16 points and Gary Stephens pitched in 15. Jim Nelson was Tech's top scorer with 23 points.

Knicks Beat Hawks Late in Game

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The New York Knicks, who waited almost half a season before righting themselves with Red Holzman, waited another three quarters Tuesday night before finally overturning the St. Louis Hawks.

A 10-point spurge at the start of the fourth quarter did the trick, turning a precarious six-point lead into a 16-point bulge and the Knicks pounded the Hawks 121-100 for their first victory over St. Louis this season in four games.

The game was the second half of a National Basketball Association doubleheader at Madison Square Garden, following Detroit's 120-93 rout over San Diego.

In other games, touring San Francisco slipped by Chicago 126-124 in overtime and Los Angeles bombarded Cincinnati 146-102 on the West Coast.

In the ABA, Indiana turned back Pittsburgh 113-100, Minnesota tripped New Orleans 112-110 and Oakland edged Dallas 99-98.

The Knicks lost twice in overtime to St. Louis before Holzman replaced Dick McGuire as their coach with the team floundering under a 15-23 record.

The Hawks beat the Knicks again before New York turned the tables and ran its record under Holzman to 14-8.

Eight straight points put the Knicks ahead to stay 48-43 at the half as St. Louis managed to hit only 28.6 per cent from the field against the ball-hawking New Yorkers.

It still was close until Dick Barnett hit baskets around scores by Walt Bellamy and Bill Bradley and Willis Reed dropped another for a convincing 87-71 lead.

Barnett went on to score 11 of his 21 points in the quarter and Reed nine of his 17 as the Knicks hammered home 44 points. Bellamy also finished with 21. Len Wilkens led St. Louis with 25.

Detroit also took advantage of some cold shooting to hand the Rockets their ninth straight defeat. The Pistons grabbed a 55-36 halftime lead as the Rockets hit only 25.4 per cent from the field. San Diego never got closer than 16 after that as Dave Bing hit 35 points for Detroit.

San Francisco, using 39 points by Fred Hetzel and 30 by Clyde Lee, came from 17 points behind in the third quarter to deal the

Combines Business With Olympics

CHAMROUSSE, France (AP) — Manfred Stiborski of Austria combines business with pleasure at the Winter Olympics.

He buys the special Olympic postcards issued for philatelists for one franc (20 cents), puts on special stamps costing 4 francs (80 cents). Then he stands on the street corner and sells the package for 10 francs (two dollars). Profits pay for his trip.

Depending on how well he does at the Winter Games, He may decide to continue his enterprise at Mexico City.

Harlem Stars Play Saturday at Prescott

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Harlem Stars are coming to Prescott Saturday night Feb. 10th and will take on the Los Angeles Angels at the McRae Gymnasium. Game time is set for 7:30. Admission will be $1.50 for adults and $1.00 for children.

The Harlem Stars are advertised as the funniest and greatest basketball team in the country today. Fans will be assured of a fancy exhibition of rap, dazzle ball handling, intricate routines and both planned and impromptu comedy along with all sorts of shenanigans.

The schedule for the all-Negro team this year calls for them to play in forty states, Mexico, Canada, Australia, Japan and some parts of Europe.

The policy of the club is to send everyone home laughing and they are experts at doing just that.

Listed on the Star's roster this season is Raymond Reed of Compton, California; James "Big Daddy" Batiste of Houston; Henry Johnson of Kansas City; Sammie "Sweet Sam" Smith of Richmond, Calif.; Richard "Honey Bear" Dabney of New Mexico; Hollis Clay of Detroit, Mich.; and Preston Sheard of Midland, Tex.

For a real fun-filled night, make your plans now to be at the McRae gym Saturday night and enjoy some of the funniest and best basketball you have ever seen.

Competition Picks Up in Olympics

By MICHAEL GOLDSTEIN
GRENOBLE, France (AP) — Pretty Peggy Fleming, America's world figure skating queen, grabbed a commanding lead today in her bid for a gold medal at the Winter Olympic Games.

The 19-year-old ice ballerina from Colorado Springs took top marks in each of the first two compulsory figures and moved 30.4 points ahead of her closest challenger, Gabriele Seyfert of East Germany as 32 girls from 15 nations began competition at the Grenoble Ice Stadium.

The final three school figures will be skated Thursday, followed by the free skating finale Saturday. Compulsory comprise 60 per cent of the total score.

Miss Fleming received the top grades for her two figures—the "left back paragraph three" and "right forward inside rocker"—from all but one of the nine judges in completing a total of 373.4 points. Miss Seyfert finished the first day's competition with 343.0 points and Austria's Beatrix Schuba was third with 340.7.

Albertina Noyes of Arlington, Mass., moved up from fifth to fourth place with a strong showing in the second figure. She had a mark of 332.5 points.

Hana Maskova of Czechoslovakia, the 1968 European champion, was fifth and British skating queen Sally Stapleford sixth.

French President Charles de Gaulle presided at the colorful ceremonies which officially opened the Games Tuesday. A crowd of some 60,000 fans jammed the Olympic Stadium to watch the festivities.

Hockey dominated the first day's athletic activities. In the opening game, the United States bowed to Czechoslovakia 5-1. In other games, Russia crushed Finland 8-0 and Canada defeated West Germany 6-1.

But the most significant opening day development was the compromise reached between the International Ski Federation and the International Olympic Committee in the ski-trademark controversy.

The IOC had clashed with the Ski Federation when the latter ruled that competitors would be allowed to use skis carrying manufacturer's names on them. The Federation argued that covering the names with wax was impractical.

The two bodies decided that the skiers would be allowed to wear skis with company names but would not be allowed to show the trademarks at the end of a run.

The IOC had opposed the trademarks because it felt they would infringe on the strict amateurism of these games.

The squabble had threatened to eliminate skiing competition as a regular Olympic event and the settlement emerged out of an emergency meeting of the IOC Congress.

Marc Hodler of Switzerland, president of the Ski Federation, said any skier ignoring the newly adopted rule would be disqualified. He said competitors would have to leave their equipment in a special area before posing for pictures.

In Tuesday's hockey, the United States fell behind early before getting a tying goal by Doug Volmar of Minneapolis. Then Czechoslovakia scored two goals in each of the last two periods to win it.

Today's schedule listed compulsory figures in women's figure skating, the men's 30-kilometer cross-country ski race, men's downhill non-stop training run and the first two heats in the two-man bobsled competition as well as hockey.

cats Have Two Games on Weekend

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer
In the midst of a four-game losing streak, the Hope Bobcats find themselves at the bottom of the 4-AA Western Division standings entering this week's play.

Now 2-6 in conference, the Cats entertain two division ball clubs this weekend, beginning on Friday night. That evening the Jr. and Sr. Boys will take on the Texarkana Washington Lions, who are slumping and are now 4-3. It will be the two teams' first meeting ever in basketball.

Then on Saturday night the Camden Lincoln Wildcats come to Jones Field House for games with the Bobkittens and the Bobcats. Both Hope squads will be after possible revenge; the Bobkittens remembering a 71-31 loss two weeks ago, and the Bobcats recalling a 51-40 defeat down at Camden.

Next week, of course, brings the Lady Cats back into the limelight with the District 7-A West Championships at Prescott. The Lady Cats are in the top-seeded position on the bracket, and with a first-round bye the Hope girls do not play in the tourney until Friday night the 16th at 8:30 p.m.

Lady Cat Coach Charlotte Gibson will take the girls up to DeQueen this Friday afternoon for a contest with the DeQueen Leopards. Now 19-4 for the season, the Ladies will be trying for their 12th in a row.

Also, next Tuesday evening the Lady Cats wrap up their regular season play, traveling up to Little Rock to meet up with the Joe T. Robinson Senators. Joe T. is a good ball club, and they finished third in the Ouachita Baptist Tigrettes Invitational back in December, while the Lady Cats placed second to the finals to Bradley, 63-50.

So the Lady Cats have to be Hope's main hope in post-season tournaments, although the Bobcats could improve easily enough to make a good showing in their district meet, still nearly a month away.

Watch for my next article, I will define another term.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
It is not the LEAP at the start but the STEADY going that gets there. — John Wannamaker said it.

CALENDAR OF EVENTS
The Yerger Shover PTA will observe Founders' Day Sunday February 11th, at 2:30 p.m., at the Hopewell Elementary School. Guest speaker for the occasion will be Mr. T. J. Lowe, an instructor at A.M.&N. College, Pine Bluff, Ark.

The Southeast Extension Homemakers Club will meet Thursday, February 8 at 2 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Walter White. Mrs. W. T. Keys, President.

WASHINGTON - SMITH VOWS PLEDGED

The New Bethel Baptist Church of Hope was the scene of 20'clock on December 24, 1967 for the marriage of Miss Dorothy Jean Washington to Edward Lee Smith.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Washington of Hope. The groom is the son of Mrs. Mattie M. Flenory of Fulton and Mr. A. G. Smith of El Cerrito, California.

Rev. W. M. Martin of Lewisville officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mr. Washington gave his daughter in marriage. Miss Audrey Faye May of Ozan provided the nuptial music. The traditional wedding march was used for the entrance of the wedding party.

For her wedding, the bride chose a floor length gown of white chiffon with the bodice overlaid with lace. The gown was designed on empire lines featuring an oval neckline and sleeves to the wrist. The bodice was accented with a bow. Her veil was shoulder length of white net on the pillbox style. She carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with a white orchid.

Miss Earlene Cheatham of Washington was maid of honor. She was attired in a floor length gown of white chiffon. Bridesmaids were Misses Bobbie Scoggins, cousin of the bride, Mavis Williams, Virginia Stuart, all of Hope, Misses Ernie Scott, Sharlett Williamson of Washington, and Miss Wanda Williamson of Hope, cousin of the groom. The bridesmaids wore street length dresses of pale blue overlaid with lace and accented at the wrists and neckline with white lace. Lloyd Washington, Jr., brother of the bride, served as best man. Groomsmen and ushers were: Alvin Flenory, brother of the groom, John Williamson, cousin of the groom, Henry Hale, all of Fulton, Charlie Scoggins, cousin of the bride, Hope, and Wilbur Woods of Fulton, cousin of the groom. Little Miss Jennifer Washington, sister of the bride, and Master Robert Epps, Jr., served as junior bridesmaid and groomsmen.

Mrs. Washington, mother of the bride, wore a two piece suit accented with blue. Mrs. Flenory, mother of the groom, wore a green knit two piece suit. Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the new home of the couple on Walker street in Hope.

The bride's table was covered with a white linen cloth with an overlay of lace. The center of the table was occupied by the three tiered wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and groom under a floral arch, and decorated in blue roses. From one end of the table rose punch was served from a cut glass punch bowl. Presiding at the punch bowl was Miss Maryann Washington, sister of the bride.

Out of town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scoggins and children of Kansas City, Mo., Miss Bessie Milus of Detroit, Mich., and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Milus and family of Seattle, Wash.

engineers and an architect. They're inexperienced as a team—this American Olympic ice hockey squad—but they're young, tough and cocky. Despite a 5-1 loss to Czechoslovakia Tuesday night in the opening game, they're sure they can win a medal.

"We may even beat the Russians, if everything should happen to go just right," said John Morrison, the team's center, an all-time scoring leader at Yale and now a Minneapolis banker. "The Russians are by far the best team in the tournament but they can be beaten. We had a bad night against the Czechs."

Murray Williamson, the team coach, a former hockey star at the University of Minnesota, attributed the opening game defeat to being too tense and too tight.

"We're a mad team now—we'll win our game against Sweden," he predicted.

The American team was assembled last September from an assortment of young businessmen, most of whom had to take time off from work to prepare for and play in the Olympic Games.

The expert analysis of the team is that it is young and aggressive but lacking in experience.

"We've played 30 games," said Jim Logue of North Andover, Mass., one of the team's two goalies. "It's not like playing the year around as the Russians and Czechs do, but it's something. We don't concede anything to anybody."

Doug Volmar of Minneapolis, an engineer doing work on time studies, said, "It's tough to get prepared psychologically in so short a time."

Bob Paradise, a high school English teacher in St. Paul, added that he had to take a month's leave from his job without pay. "We have to get breaks to beat the four top teams," he said.

The top teams are Russia, an overwhelming favorite to repeat as champion; Canada, Sweden and Czechoslovakia.

Larry Stahl Dahl, a wing, is a systems engineer from Edina, Minn.; Pat Rupp, the No. 1 goalie, is a salesman in Minnesota. Lawrence Pleau, one of the standouts in the game against the Czechs, is an Army private from Fort Campbell, N.Y.

The schedule of Solunar Periods, as printed below, has been taken from Richard Alden Knight's SOLUNAR TABLES. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times. If you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

The Major Periods are shown in boldface type. These begin at the times shown and last for an hour and a half or two hours thereafter. The Minor Periods, shown in regular type, are of somewhat shorter duration.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT:

"I buy my insurance from an independent agent for the same reason that I buy my honey from the grocer rather than the bee. While I might save money from dealing directly with the bee, there's a possibility my lack of training, knowledge and experience would result in my getting stung."

Conclusion: There is no substitute for experience.

Lawmaker Lashes Out at Governor

By ED SHEARER
Associated Press Writer
FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Rep. Charles Matthews of North Little Rock has questioned the integrity of Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller and classified him as an incompetent executive.

Matthews, voted the outstanding freshman legislator last year, thus becomes the first person aligned with the progressive element of the General Assembly to criticize the governor to this extent.

He said a state looks to its governor to provide a unified program and the dynamic leadership if both anti and progressive steps are taken to resolve difficulties of great scope and consequence.

AID Officials Resign During 'Favors' Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Several officials of the Agency for International Development, the nation's foreign-aid agency, reportedly have responded during a probe of alleged acceptance of entertainment from a U.S. contractor doing work for AID in Europe.

Sources said the contractor charged the government excessive fees and that claims are being filed on the excess amount.

Authorities declined comment on the case on the ground it has been referred to the Justice Department for prosecution.

Herbert J. Walters, a one-time top aide to Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, said he helped investigate the probe and wholeheartedly supports it.

Walters, whose resignation is effective Feb. 15, is head of the war on hunger program. It was understood that earlier he had a job that involved some administrative responsibility for the program now being investigated.

The White House announced his resignation last month.

Walters, an assistant to Humphrey when the vice president was a senator, said he decided last fall to return to private enterprise.

AID sources said the probe involves allegations that some of the agency's administrative personnel improperly accepted entertainment from a contractor who was refurbishing U.S. military surplus goods for use in foreign aid programs. The operation was centered in Antwerp, Belgium.

An AID spokesman declined to name those who resigned or the contractor.

Walters issued this statement: "There is a pending investigation of an excess property contract. I helped investigate this investigation, and stand ready to assist AID at all times on this matter."

"Others in AID are responsible for this case, and I am not at liberty to discuss details of it."

"Since the reorganization of AID one year ago, excess property has not been my direct responsibility. However, I support wholeheartedly the action AID had taken and is taking to tighten and improve the supervision of the program."

Walters was assistant AID administrator for materials and resources before heading its newly established war on hunger office.

Page Five
Arkansas is not to be found," he said. "Our present governor has proven himself a man who cannot lead, much less even be believed."

Matthews, making the remarks in a speech sponsored by Young Democrats on KFS-TV in Fort Smith, said Rockefeller was expected to have had a program after running for four years.

Charging that Rockefeller has backtracked on campaign promises for teachers, Helena, Hot Springs and those advocating constitutional reform, Matthews said that the governor had "deliberately chosen the low road of political intrigue."

"The executive quite naturally became an object of considerable distrust and leadership continues to stay out of the office along with the man," Matthews said.

Henderson in the AIC Driver's Seat

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A night of unexpected results in Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference basketball action Tuesday left the Henderson Reddies in the driver's seat.

Henderson, Arkansas College and Southern State went into Tuesday night's action tied for first place, but Henderson whipped the Scots 83-73 and Arkansas Tech defeated the Mule riders 85-76, giving the Reddies sole possession of first place.

In other games, Hendrix downed Ouchita Baptist 74-65; Ozarks clipped Arkansas A&M 82-75, and State College of Arkansas downed Harding 82-77.

Arkansas College led Henderson the first 11 minutes of the game, but the Reddies pulled even and went head to head at 28-26.

Larry Duckworth led Henderson with 33 points, but the Scots' Bill Cossey was the game's top scorer with 44 points.

Arkansas Tech led the way in defeating Southern State in Russellville. Terry Horn paced Tech with 28 points and John Gross flipped in 20 for Southern State.

The Hendrix Warriors spurted ahead early and held on for its victory over Ouchita at Arkadelphia. Hendrix led 43-31 at halftime. Wayne Nash led Hendrix with 15 points, Robert Cornelius had 16 for Ouchita.

State College constructed a 16-point lead, then held on for its five-point victory over Harding at Conway. Mike Bridges led the Bears with 21 points and Marvin Levels paced Harding with 18.

College of the Ozarks, getting 32 points and 20 rebounds out of Bob Chance, trailed Arkansas A&M most of the first half, but finally pulled ahead at 45-40 at the half on route to its triumph. Joe Hickey hit 19 points for Ozarks and Kelton Busby led A&M with 29 points.

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Skipped Heart Beats No Threat to Health

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—I have had extrasystoles for over nine years. They are worse after I eat. The doctors tell me not to worry about them. Is there any way to stop them?

A—Extrasystoles or skipped beats are often more noticeable after a meal or when one is excited. Since they are no threat to your health, the best treatment is to learn to ignore them just as you have learned to ignore the taking of air into your lungs 18 or 20 times a minute.

Q—I have attacks of PAT which come on with no warning. When I have an attack it is hard to speak. I get nervous and breathless but have no pain. My doctor can stop an attack by pressing on my carotid sinus. Would it be safe for me to do this myself?

A—Paroxysmal atrial (supraventricular) tachycardia (PAT) is characterized by sudden attacks of rapid pulse—about 160 beats a minute. These attacks are frightening rather than dangerous.

In some victims squeezing the carotid sinus in the neck gives prompt relief and since your doctor can't be with you every time you have an attack he should teach you to do this yourself. Deep pressure on the eyeballs may be equally effective. Guanethidine or quinidine (both are prescription drugs) may be used if these methods don't work.

Q—After an electrocardiogram, my doctor told me I had an incomplete right bundle branch block of the heart. Is this bad? I take Atarax, but only when I get pains in my chest. Is this the best treatment?

A—In heart block, the degree of seriousness (ranging from inconsequential to ominous) must be determined by a doctor with special training in heart disease. Since Atarax is a tranquilizer, I would assume that your block is not the serious kind. The latter is best treated by implanting an electronic pacemaker under the skin.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Victor Mollo writes: "Few players are so often in the limelight as Giorgio Belladonna. Somehow he seems to hold the right cards at the right time when the right people are kibitzing. Examples of his dummy play have inspired countless articles, but the one which follows has not been published before. It occurred at rubber bridge.

"With a sure loser in spades and another in hearts, the contract appeared to hinge on locating the queen of diamonds. What, then, was the best way to play the hand? Belladonna decided to let the opponents find the queen for him. He won the opening spade in his hand, cashed dummy's ace and king of clubs, ruffed a club, entered dummy with the ace of hearts and ruffed the last club. If East had followed to the fourth club, Belladonna would have discarded his heart, since he could not have afforded the chance of an over-ruff by West.

"Then he put the opponents on lead with a heart. Winning the spade return in dummy, he ruffed dummy's last heart and got off lead again with a spade. He was down to three diamonds in each hand and sure to make the rest of the tricks irrespective of the diamond situation."

This hand is a beautiful example of dummy play. His play wasn't a sure thing. If West had started with only two clubs, for example, the hand would have collapsed with the third club lead, but it was a far better line of play than going right after trumps.

The hand also shows one vaunted Italian system at its worst. Somehow or other a three no-trump contract would be far better and would be arrived at by any American pair. Playing at three no-trump, declarer will be worried only by a heart lead. It won't be much of a worry because he will hold off twice and then play the diamond suit so as to be sure of keeping East out of the lead. He will lose to the queen of diamonds by this play but will wind up making four no-trump anyway.

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Skipped Heart Beats No Threat to Health

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—I have had extrasystoles for over nine years. They are worse after I eat. The doctors tell me not to worry about them. Is there any way to stop them?

A—Extrasystoles or skipped beats are often more noticeable after a meal or when one is excited. Since they are no threat to your health, the best treatment is to learn to ignore them just as you have learned to ignore the taking of air into your lungs 18 or 20 times a minute.

Q—I have attacks of PAT which come on with no warning. When I have an attack it is hard to speak. I get nervous and breathless but have no pain. My doctor can stop an attack by pressing on my carotid sinus. Would it be safe for me to do this myself?

A—Paroxysmal atrial (supraventricular) tachycardia (PAT) is characterized by sudden attacks of rapid pulse—about 160 beats a minute. These attacks are frightening rather than dangerous.

In some victims squeezing the carotid sinus in the neck gives prompt relief and since your doctor can't be with you every time you have an attack he should teach you to do this yourself. Deep pressure on the eyeballs may be equally effective. Guanethidine or quinidine (both are prescription drugs) may be used if these methods don't work.

Q—After an electrocardiogram, my doctor told me I had an incomplete right bundle branch block of the heart. Is this bad? I take Atarax, but only when I get pains in my chest. Is this the best treatment?

A—In heart block, the degree of seriousness (ranging from inconsequential to ominous) must be determined by a doctor with special training in heart disease. Since Atarax is a tranquilizer, I would assume that your block is not the serious kind. The latter is best treated by implanting an electronic pacemaker under the skin.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

'Breaks' May Be Developing for U.S. in the Far East

America's problem in Southeast Asia, as the average citizen understands it, is to set up self-governing nations and intervene militarily in that section of the world only long enough to assure a political climate that will permit them to "go it alone."

Vietnam happens to be the place where we are fighting, but one look at the map of Southeast Asia explains the broader picture involving neighboring countries.

The success of democratic procedure in Vietnam obviously depends upon what happens also in Indonesia, Cambodia, and Laos. What is needed is an area alliance in which the principal powers of Southeast Asia will stand together so that all may preserve their individual independence.

After a long run of bad luck the "breaks" may be falling our way. Our most obstinate enemy was Sukarno, Communist dictator of Indonesia, but Indonesia threw him out, giving democracy a potential ally under the very nose of Red China.

Another Southeast Asia country notoriously unfriendly to the Western view of things has been Cambodia, officially "neutral" but siding with the Communists at every opportunity. But the Reds have exhausted their welcome in Cambodia, using it as a staging ground to mount attacks against Vietnam — and today an angry Cambodia is speaking out openly against the Viet Cong and Chinese.

These are straws in the wind in Southeast Asia. If the present course holds it will put pressure on Laos, Vietnam's closest and weakest neighbor, perhaps end the infiltration coming through Laos — and pave the way for a Southeast Asia alliance that can mount its own defense and eventually disengage Americans from the fighting.

Prison Doctor Announces Resignation

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The picture of the Arkansas prison system became a bit more clouded Tuesday night when Dr. Edwin N. Barron Jr. of Little Rock announced that he would resign as prison physician within 90 days.

Barron, who participated in the search that turned up three skeletons in unmarked graves at Cummins Prison Farm Jan. 29, said he would tell the state Prison Board this morning that he intended to resign as soon as the board could find a replacement.

Barron, who has been the prison's physician since September, said he was pleased with the changes he made in the prison's medical program, but he said his prison duties were interfering with his private practice.

Will Outlaw Barber's Mug

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — The traditional barber's shaving mug and brush will soon be outlawed in Connecticut.

The state examining board for barbers announced Tuesday that it will require Connecticut shops to replace brushes with latex machines.

In the old-fashioned approach, the same brush goes from face to face, the board said. With the machine, a sanitary new supply of latex is produced for each shave.

May Be in for a Chewing Out

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — Whoever stole some things from teacher Ronald D. Storaasli's locker during a basketball game at Keithley Junior High School may be in for a good chewing out — that is, if Storaasli gets his things back. Deputy Sheriff John Shields reports the teacher's false teeth were among the missing items.

Postmaster Is Named

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jesse Doyle Jr. of Geneva (Pulaski County) was named for the postmastership at Geneva Tuesday by President Johnson.

Fireworks Expected Over Davis

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The special session of the legislature concluded business for the second Tuesday on a continued note of calmness, but fireworks on several controversial items were expected before adjournment late today.

Discussions could become heated on bills dealing with a proposed constitutional convention and on another to make Lynn A. Davis eligible to be reappointed as State Police director.

Both the House and Senate suspended its rules Tuesday and passed appropriation measures to defray costs of the session ($95,000 in the House and $76,100 in the Senate) as well as a bill to allow law school graduates without a license to serve as a law clerk in the circuit courts of Pulaski County.

The House also passed four other items, virtually without debate.

Rep. Bill Wells of Hermitage opposed the law clerk bill on grounds that it was local legislation. He got such an admission from the sponsor, Rep. Gayle Windsor of Little Rock.

Wells said Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller and some of his top aides had assured him, even as late as 15 minutes prior to the convening of the session, that local legislation would not be included in the call.

Wells said Rockefeller had told him that if any were included, he would include a local salary bill Wells wanted.

Suit Filed for Halfway House

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Release Foundation filed a lawsuit Tuesday in Chancery Court here asking for a ruling on the legality of having a halfway house for ex-convicts located in a certain area in Little Rock.

The foundation said it wants to know if the city's zoning ordinances would permit the house to be established in a Class C family dwellings zone or a Class D apartment zone, which is the zoning for the proposed location.

Barns, Like Homes, People Are Always Boarded by Memories

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — One of the nostalgic sights you see, as you drive across our tremendous America, is a parade of abandoned farm households.

The purpose of the fields has not been left. The seed is planted, the land yields.

But, the presence of a people is no longer there. The weathered boards of home look out with eyeless glaze, because when a house loses its windows it is like a human being that lacks a view. The emptiness of purpose makes you feel uncomfortable.

The barns are sometimes more fully employed. They may be stuffed with the current crop as a kind of warehouse, or have silage sticking out of their loneliness, but the barns have an emptiness too.

Homes are built to shelter people in them, and barns are built to shelter animals.

When you see a farm home, old-fashioned though it be, that has no human life within it, and a barn behind it that has no animal life within it to feed, you see in essence the American pathway of peril from simplicity to complexity.

Barns have many functions. In the days of an earlier America they were a sanctuary, a duty, a danger and a comfort.

Oh, the barn, it had so many things to do. The warm shelter of the animals, smelling of sweat after their work in the fields, the warm human companionship of taking care of them, giving them hay or grain,

U.S. Probing Reports of Discrimination in Northern Schools

By STEPHEN M. AUG
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department is taking its first cautious steps into the potentially explosive area of racial imbalance in Northern schools.

Stephen J. Pollak, newly appointed assistant attorney general in charge of civil rights activities, said his office is examining a handful of complaints alleging discriminatory treatment of Negroes in Northern schools.

At least some of the complaints are from California, Illinois, Pennsylvania and Oklahoma, said Pollak.

He declined to specify the communities or the precise nature of the complaints, but said in at least two cases letters have been written to the school boards in a bid to resolve the problems.

He said the department also is considering plans to enter some privately initiated suits aimed at ending alleged discrimination in Northern schools. The department would take part in such a case only when it involves a matter of substantial importance.

The Justice Department has done relatively little in connection with schools racial imbalance problems in the North when compared with its extensive activities in the South. Last year alone it undertook 68 Southern school desegregation actions, including 26 suits which it filed or joined, and 42 which it reopened to bring court-ordered desegregation plans up to current legal standards.

But, while in Southern cities it was relatively simple for the department to prove that separate school systems were operated for whites and Negroes, racial discrimination is far more subtle in the North.

The department has little if any power to end so-called de facto segregation in Northern schools. This is racial imbalance existing because of neighborhood residence patterns, and not generally by design of school boards.

What the department needs to know, Pollak said in an interview, is precisely "what's unlawful. We are in the early stages of having an understanding of what the facts of the Northern school situation are."

Pollak believes the department's opportunities for successful desegregation actions in the North lie in targeting cases in which school boards engage in discriminatory activities.

"A clear example," he said, would be "where a school system is under-financing predominantly Negro schools; where children are more overcrowded in Negro schools or when the pupil-teacher ratio is disadvantageous; where course offerings in Negro areas are restricted" or where Negro schools have more temporary teachers than do white schools.

To initiate a probe of school desegregation, Pollak explained, the department must have a complaint from the parent of a child or a group asserting a pupil is a member of a class of citizens being denied its rights.

slapping their leather sides, holding a hand to a muzzle, scratching behind an ear, feeling by palm the marvelous response of flexibility of skin and muscle, a shuddering that flicks a fly off but doesn't tell you to take your hand away.

All together, the feeling of mutuality, for the crop... and against the wind.

And if he were weary of the arguments within the house, or the reading of many books and mail order catalogs, a person could cure his loneliness by going out to the barn and listen to the soft restlessness and reassurances of the animals there, their chomping, their shuffle of stampings, their putting up with time.

Barns, like people, have their own character. Although, as a child in Kansas City, I used to go out in summer and play in country barns, the barn that has haunted my life is one that the city itself had surrounded.

It had been, I suppose, as much of a carriage house as a barn. It still held the hover of smell left by long ago horses. It stood behind a great brick house where old people lived but did not come out anymore, and the unplucked grapes were eaten by birds in a sagging arbor.

Although our parents warned us away from the old barn, we children crept into it secretly and made it our favorite playhouse. Upstairs we found it was

U.S. Troops Clash With Irked Koreans

By K. C. HWANG
Associated Press Writer
SEOUL (AP) — U.S. Army troops clashed today with about 400 demonstrating South Korean college students. At least 24 students were injured by bullets or rifle butts, the South Korean national police reported.

The GIs from the 2nd U.S. Infantry fired an estimated 20 rounds of warning shots during the two-hour melee on the Freedom Bridge a mile below the demilitarized zone, the police said.

Nine students were reported in serious condition. None of the soldiers was reported hurt. The injured included several girls, the police said.

The students were demonstrating against U.S.-North Korean talks for the release of the USS Pueblo and her crew. Police said the demonstrators were trying to march over the bridge across the Imjin river to the conference site at Panmunjom, where U.S. and North Korean officials met today at an open meeting of the Military Armistice Commission. But the Pueblo was not mentioned at the meeting.

Anti-American demonstrations broke out in Seoul this week for the first time in five years after South Korean officials accused the United States of alighting South Korea's cause in the secret talks American officials have been holding at Panmunjom with the North Koreans since last Friday.

Korean officials did an about-face today and withdrew much of their criticism. But the clash between the students and American soldiers was certain to inflame public opinion.

The armistice commission meeting today touched briefly on the Communist commando raid on Seoul Jan. 21, which the lone Communist raider captured said was aimed at killing President Chung Hee Park.

The South Korean government had contended that the U.S. government should be paying more attention to the assassination raid and the heightened North Korean infiltration across the demilitarized zone than to the Pueblo.

New Drug, Anti-riot Laws Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, calling federal enforcement of narcotic laws "fragmented," asked Congress today to create "a new and powerful Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs."

He also called for an antiriot law that would make it a felony to cross state lines to incite or take part in riots.

In a message to Congress, Johnson said hallucinogenic drugs such as marijuana and LSD present "an insidious and growing threat to our nation's health, particularly the health of young people."

He called for transferring the Treasury Department's Bureau of Narcotics and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare's drug abuse control powers to the Justice Department to create the new bureau to clamp down on drugs.

Filibuster Against Civil Rights Bill Shaping in Congress

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A filibuster against the administration's civil rights bill is taking shape following defeat of a substitute measure backed by Deep South senators and introduction of an open housing proposal.

After three weeks of desultory debate, there were these rapid-fire developments Tuesday on the bill aimed at protecting Negroes and civil rights workers against racial violence:

— The Senate voted 54 to 29 to table and thus kill a substitute offered by Sen. Sam J. Ervin, D-N.C.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, who had been seeking to work out a compromise, said the vote all but ended hopes for achieving such an agreement.

— Sens. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., and Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., offered an amendment that would ban discrimination in the sale or rental of all housing except owner-occupied dwellings containing up to four units.

The two actions generated talk of a filibuster.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., said he favors "extending debate on the civil rights bill as long as is necessary to defeat it."

Mansfield said his intention is "to allow the debate to go on for a reasonable time and then to file a cloture petition and see what results."

To crush a filibuster by putting the Senate's debate-limiting cloture rule into effect takes a two-thirds majority of senators voting.

Dirksen said he didn't think cloture would be voted. He said he would not help a cloture attempt.

Mansfield had said earlier that if cloture could not be obtained the administration bill would have to be shunted aside.

"I am not going to spend the whole session debating this legislation," he said.

Although defeat of Ervin's substitute represented an initial victory for the bill's backers, Mansfield and Dirksen said it also marked the end, at least for the time being, of the efforts they and others have been making to work out a compromise.

"What disturbs me is that we may wind up with nothing," Mansfield said in an interview.

Dirksen said the legislation may be turned into "a Christmas tree bill" with a lot of amendments or there may be "no bill at all."

The administration bill would make it a federal crime to interfere by force or threats with the exercise of specifically enumerated rights because of a person's race, color, religion or national origin.

Ervin's substitute would have provided like protection for all citizens, not just members of minority groups. It also would not have included state activities among protected rights.

The open housing amendment offered by Mondale and Brooke adheres to one by President Johnson except for the exemption of owner-occupied dwellings with up to four units. Otherwise, over a three-year period, the ban on discrimination would apply to all housing.

AP News Digest

VIETNAM-KOREA

Gen. William M. Momyer, commander of the 7th Air Force, says three years of bombing North Vietnam have had widespread effects on the enemy. He says the American losses have been worthwhile.

With North Vietnamese tanks reported in the war for the first time, a Special Forces camp near Khe Sanh battles a heavy attack. Fighting continues in Hue and Saigon.

Soviet-Made Tanks Are Knocked Out

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — The North Vietnamese sent their Russian tanks into the Vietnam war today, apparently for the first time, against South Vietnamese irregulars and their American Green Beret advisers fighting furiously to hold onto a Special Forces camp in the northwest corner of South Vietnam.

Reports from Da Nang said a Special Forces sergeant had radioed that only five of the 23 Americans in the Lang Vei camp were still alive — he and four others in the headquarters bunker. He reported a knocked-out tank was on top of the bunker.

The U.S. Command said Lang Vei's defenders destroyed five of the nine Russian T34 tanks sent against them.

The massive assault on Lang Vei, four miles west of Khe Sanh, could be the kickoff of the long anticipated offensive along the northern frontier, which Gen. William C. Westmoreland has predicted will be the biggest enemy push of the war, exceeding the furious assaults on South Vietnamese cities and towns last week.

The campaign against the cities, the largest enemy offensive so far, has died down at most points after eight days, but Viet Cong forces still fought stubbornly in Saigon and Hue.

The U.S. Command said the enemy death toll in the past eight days reached 22,748 by midnight Tuesday. It said 1,768 allied troops have been killed, including 614 Americans and 1,130 South Vietnamese.

Military spokesmen said the North Vietnamese began pounding the Lang Vei camp with artillery at dusk Tuesday, then launched the ground attack about two hours later. The nine Russian tanks rumbled east along Highway Nine, leading the infantrymen through the camp's minefields and three lines of barbed wire.

The camp's garrison — 300-400 South Vietnamese and Montagnard irregulars and their American advisers — took cover in their bunkers, and North Vietnamese sprayed the bunkers with flamethrowers to drive the defenders back from rifle and machine-gun ports.

U.S. headquarters said radio contact was lost with the Americans in the camp at 3:10 a.m., but was re-established at 4:20.

U.S. Marine artillery at Khe Sanh fired tons of shells almost on top of the camp after the Green Berets called for close support. Air Force and Marine fighter-bombers raked the area with bombs, cannon and machine-guns.

A U.S. spokesman said heavy contact continued through the night and diminished about 11 a.m., but some fighting continued. U.S. headquarters said radio contact was being maintained throughout the day.

South Vietnamese headquarters said the irregulars also were still holding out in the camp and were in radio communication with an observation plane.

Jobless Rate Lowest in 15 Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate dropped to 3.5 per cent last month, the lowest level in almost 15 years, the Labor Department reported today.

Total employment at 73.3 million was at an all-time high for January and up 1.1 million from a year earlier, the Bureau of Labor Statistics said.

The drop in the jobless rate from 3.7 per cent of the civilian labor force in December was due largely to a greater than usual decline in the number of women seeking work, Commissioner Arthur M. Ross reported.
